ence in the presence of "Phil" Thompson, which lasted for some time. The Idaho Senator's visit was in the interests of his leader, Senator Teller, and it is presumed that the support of the Blackburn strength was asked for the Colorado Senator. It is said, and confirmed by the admission of Senator Blackburn, that the South feels kindly toward Senator Teller, and especially because of his fight in the Senate against the Lodge bill, but it is also said that among the Southern oldline Democrats, irrespective of the money question, it would be a difficult task to create a sentiment favorable to voting for a man who only a few days ago was a Republican.

Colonel Thompson, as the spokesman for the Kentucky Senator, said to a reporter this afternoon: "Senator Blackburn will be put forward by the Kentucky State delegation for President by unanimous action of the delegation sent here, of which he is the head. They are instructed for him, and we will remain in the fight to the end. The support of several State delegations and the individual support of some delegates from several other States have been promised to him. We do not care to mention names or give figures yet. Mr. Blackburn has been an ardent and consistent advocate of the free coinage of silver for twenty-two years."

MR. ECKELS IN THE BACKGROUND.

Controller Eckels is keeping in the background nd does his work for the gold minority without being seen to any extent. ALTGELD TO TAKE A REST.

Governor Altgeld, who has been a tireless and conspicuous worker in the silver cause since the delegates began to arrive, felt physically unequal to the task of keeping up the work, with next week's programme in prospect, and left the city for Springfield to-night. He will return Sunday to renew the battle. Immediately after the meeting Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, was brought to his room and introduced by Senator Jones. The Governor appeared glad to meet the Missouri Senator, and the three went into secret conference behind double-locked doors. The Bland campaign managers, who were waiting in the frotunda for something, talked as if it were a certainty that the forty-eight Illinois votes would be cast for Mr. Bland on the first ballot. They accounted the conference with Senator Cackrell as Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, who is a delegate-at-large, arrived this evening, with D. H. Tompkins, of the same State, and registered at the Sherman House. MEETING OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE ON ARRANGEMENTS.

THE CONFERENCE WITH THE BIMETALLIC DEPU-TATION-REPORTS ON DECORATIONS , AND THE QUESTION OF DOORKEEPERS.

Chicago, July 1.-Chairman Harrity, of the Democratic National Committee, accompanied by several members of the Pennsylvania delegation, arrived here shortly after 9 o'clock this morning on the Pennsylvania Limited, and was met by Secretary Sheerin. The party was driven to the Palmer House, where Mr. Harrity held a secret conference with his associates of the Sub-Committee on Arrangements for the Convention. The sub-committee met shortly after noon in one of the parlors of the Palmer House, Chairman Harrity, Secretary Sheerin, Messrs. Prather, of Missouri; Shorley, of Kentucky; Wallace, of Washington; Norris, of the District of Columbia, and Wall, of Wisconsin, were present when the sub-committee went into secret session. Sergeant-at-Arms Martin was called in to report on the appointments he had made, and his course regarding doorkeepers was approved. He received full power to go ahead on the same lines. Chairman Shorley, of the Sub-Committee on Decorations, etc., reported that the Coliseum would be finished as to carpenter work and decorations by Saturday, when a musical festival is to be held. Most of the seating work is already done.

Representatives of the Illinois delegation waited on Colonel Martin at noon and asked, on behalf of the gold and silver elements, for three doorkeepers from this State, but the sergeant-atarms adhered to his determination not to appoint any men with political entanglements ing in the Sherman House to-night of the Na- which would tempt them to be derelict in their

The committee was requested to wait upon the full committee. meeting decided to continue the existence of the Conference Committee, with Senator Jones as chairman.

Several of the leaders spoke in favor of at fonce enlarging the scope and usefulness of the whole committee by making it a permanent Convention organization, with the title of caucus, to which all silver delegates will be eligible to come. This proposition met with unanimous favor and Senator Harris, of Tennessee, was chosen chairman of the caucus. The meeting adjourned to Friday night, or earlier at the call of the chairman.

The general opinion of those present was that the silver forces had lost no advantage by going before the National Committee, and that the mild manner in which they were received led them to believe that the silver men would be allowed to organize the Convention permanently and temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organization and the make-up of the temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organization and the make-up of the temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organize the Convention permanently and temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organizes the Convention permanently and temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organizes the Convention permanently and temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organization and the make-up of the temporary roll, and they had better appear before that comporary organizes the Convention permanent in the convention meets. The Bland men have planned a big street de stration for Monday evening, to stir up enthusiasm for their candidate. It is expected that 3,000 men will be in line bearing torches. The Marching Club of St. Louis, 2,500 strong, will be here to take part, or St. Louis, 2,500 strong, will be here to take part, and other Missouri organizations which will be in line are the Kansas City and Topeka Flambeau clubs. These organizations will arrive in the city on Sunday or Monday. It was said at the head-quarters that by Monday the enthusiasm for Bland would be shown by the presence in the city of at least 7,000 persons from his State.

"Your name has been associated with that of Sen-ator Teiler as head of the ticket by Senator Daniel, of Virginia. Are you a candidate?"
"I have no expectations in that direction. I intend to spend most of the summer at my home, and shall not attend the convention. I have been a delegate a good many times. This promises to be a very in-teresting convention."

Sergeant-at-Arms Martin returned this morning from St. Louis, where he appointed Walter F. Mc-Intyre, a prominent lawyer, to supervise the door-Reepers of the convention. He was not in a mood to give in to the demands of the politicians who want friendly doorkeepers appointed. "Let the Elinois and other protesting delegations go to the National Committee," he said, "if my way of making appointments does not suit them. I sm its creature. No club or party organization can dictate. I am protecting one State from the rest of the States. I am giving Illinois the bulk of everything except doorkeepers. I will have no doorkeepers to be under the influence of anybody. All my men are Democrats who will do my bidding, and I can trust them to do it."

Benator-elect Money, of Mississippi, one of the del egates-at-large from that State, is here to attend the meeting of the Bimetallic League. "My State has no preference for the nominee for President," he said, "go far as I have been able to learn. We are for any man who has a able to learn. We are for any man who has a record which is clearly and unequivocally in favor of free sliver. Bland, or Boics, or any of the other candidates who have been named, would suit us well. I am not in favor of Teller, because it seems to me it would be a queer thing for the Democratic party to ask the suffrages of the people and admit tacitly, by the nomination of a Republican, that we consider ourselves incompetent to manage the Nation. Our delegates are uninstructed, and will support any free sliver man who may be nominated."

The Kansas delegation has taken quarters at the Leland, reinforced by a flambeau club and several other organizations. Senator Martin and David Overmeyer, both of Topeka, are here. Senator Martin said: "The Kansas delegation has had no conference, and it is a little premature to say who it will support for the nomination. It is safe to say, however, that the State is a unit for free silver. Every Democrat in the State feels warm toward Teller, but we have done no campaigning. We figire it out that free silver will win hands down this fall. Some wise folks will be surprised. We first propose to draw up a straight out-and-out free-silver 16-to-1-platform, without any dodging, and then we propose to get a man who will fit the platform and lead us on to victory. We shall treat the gold Democrats fairly, and then if they wish to go they are welcome to do so. We are quite certain, however, that for every Democratic gold vote we lose we shall gain three silver Republican votes. That pare of our work is not bothering us at all. Myself and some of my colleagues are delegates to the Populist Convention, and the Knights of Labor will be heard from at that time." "Yes," put in Edward J. AND IN THE FALL ELECTIONS. Lebanon, Mo., July 1.-Richard Parks Bland, Missouri's candidate for President, has just returned here from a conference at St. Louis with those who are working in his interest. "I do not know that I can add much to my pravious expressions on the subject of silver, "It is generally known that I urgently favor restoration of silver as a metal, and advocate its free, unlimited and unrestricted coinage at a ratio of is to 1, to be maintained in all respects at a mutual parity with gold. I think the immediate effect of this change would be to improve the industrial and commercial condition of the country. I thoroughly believe that the restoration of free coinage would be the salvation of this Nation. If the United States were to open their mints to the free and unlimited coinage of silver I think other leading nations will promptly follow the example.

"In case the other nations followed or did not follow this example, and the United States had to maintain the free coinage of silver alone, I believe no lil effect would be experienced in the financial centres. LEADING DEMOCRATS DESPONDENT. Poughkeepsle, N. Y., July 1 (Special).-J. W. Hinkey, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said this evening that he had recently talked with a number of the most prominent Democrats in the National reputation, and all were men of exceptional prominence and the largest experience in political affairs. Not one of them thought there would be the slightest possibility of electing a President on a silver platform. Mr. Hinkley says that four months of discussion will end the sliver craze.

SIBLEY PREFERS TELLER.

Victor, Col., July 1.-Joseph C. Sibley, the silver leader of Pennsylvania, has written a letter to Frank P. Mannix Editor of "The Victor Record" in which he makes the following statement, after refusing to permit any mention of his name for President: "Upon Henry M. Teller more than any other it seems possible to unite all the forces which amalgamated cannot lose, and which divided have already lost. I am, perforce, for Heary M. Teller, but, for that matter, who ever the candidate may be who can most certainly unify these forces of reform shall be my leader, even were he my most bitter personal enemy."

INDIANA LEADERS IN CONFERENCE. Indianapolis, July 1 (Special).-There was a conference this afternoon among Republican candidates and State Committeemen. Reports were received from every part of the State, showing that the silver agitation was prevalent in almost every district, but nowhere was it thought to be dangerous or likely to be obstinate to educational influences. It was generally agreed that the campaign should not be formally opened until September, but that the educational work should be begun at once through the newspapers and printed speeches. Marcus R. Sulzer, candidate for Congress in the IVth District, in which Holman Congress in the IATE District, in which Holman lives, says that the conditions for Republican success are better than they were in 1884, when Holman was defeated. He reported that every Democratic merchant in his town, Madison, was strongly opposed to the free comage of silver and would vote for McKinley. The same was reported from the 1st. Heminway's district. From every part of the State Democratic defections, owing to the 16 to 1 idea, were reported.

HOT DAY AT THE STATE CAMP.

MANY MEN DROP FROM THE RANKS, BUT THERE ARE NO FATALITIES.

REGIMENTAL DRILL BEGINS TO-DAY-THE CAV ALRY OUT RECONNOITERING-VISITORS

State Camp, Peekskill, N. Y., July 1.-Until today the weather has been cool during the drill hour, but this morning the sun seemed to have acquired an extra amount of heat. Along the bluffs there was a refreshing breeze, but on the parade grounds it was not felt. Several privates dropped out of ranks and Captain Roy Hawkes, of Company F, fainted from the heat. He was taken to his quarters and made comfortable. None of the cases were serious, and each one revived after a short time in the shade.

Eight boys from the Burnham Industrial farm were visitors at camp this morning. They were escorted around the grounds by Corporal Charles Pellew, of Squadron A, an instructor in Columbia College and President of the Board of Trustees of the Burnham Farm. He took them over and introduced them to General McAlpin, who shook hands with each one and gave them some excellent soldierly advice. The farm is a home for young boys who are wayward and unruly and too young to be sent to reformatories. It is a private corporation, supported solely by contributions, and is situated at Canaan Four Corners, in Columbia County.

The turning point of the drill schedule of the week was reached to-day, when the last battallon manoeuvres in closed order were completed. Tomorrow the battalions join in a regimental drill, which should be very creditable, judging from the battalion drills of the week.

They have clearly shown two things, that the instruction given is of the right sort, and that the regiment and separate company battalion are ready and eager to learn. Both of these facts are very encouraging and gratifying to the ofsenting vote, a platform which on National issues senting vote, a platform which on National issues of instruction. The Sth has been somewhat of a surprise in the matter of drills. Some allowance might have been made for the regiment, be cause it has lately been recruiting so largely, but it seems none is needed. The men are taking great steps forward, and their work is very meritorious. General McAlpin said to-day he had never before seen such rapid progress made by troops, all of which is very complimentary to both officers and men. Nor are the separate companies behind. They are greatly interested in their work, and their drill has much of the requisite snap about it.

The squadron went out of camp for drill this morning. They rode away down the hill and out along the country roads, where they were exercised in reconneitring in the country. They came riding back just as the bugle sounded.
